STAR THEATRE.

STAR THEATRE.

A new play called "Zar, ar," by Paul Kester, was presented for the first time in this city by Alexander Salvini at the Star Theatre hast night. The scenes are laid in Portugal in the year 1521, and the story deals with a struggle between two brothers. Alexander Salvini played the title role, and his company included william Redmond, John A. Lane, William Harris, Eleanor Moretti, Maude Dixon, Augusta De Forrest and others. A review of "Zamar" will appear in tomorrow's "Evening World."

NEW PARK THEATRE. NEW PARK THEATRE.

NEW PARK THEATRE.

The jovial comedian, George W. Monroe, appeared last night at the New Park Theatre in his ever popular, aiways renovated farce-comedy, "My Aunt Bridget." Mr. Monroe was as funny as ever, and in his company were some very clever people, including Kate Davis,
Miss Catherine Linyard Sweetser, Miss
Sadie Kirby and the Stewart sisters, who contributed new and agreeable specialties.

DALY'S THEATRE.

DALY'S THEATRE.

"The Fencing-Master," De Koven and Smith's comic opera, began a fortnight's engagement at Daly's Theatre last night, when the "prima donna role" of Francesca was sung by Miss Lily Post, whose voice is in very good form indeed. Hubert Wilke was again heard as Fortunio, and one gets used to his guitural notes after a time. Mile. Thes. Dorri, Mile. Parepa, Gerald Gerome and Fred Solomom were also in the cast.

HARLEM OPERA-HOUSE. HARLEM OPERA-HOUSE.

"The Algerian" moved uptown to Hammerstein's Harlem Opera-House last night, and was sung there with the same cast heard at Daly's Theatre. Miss Marie Tempest is the life and soul of this opera, and her work in the role of Celeste was as delightful as ever. The beautiful Steger was very much in evidence, but he is quite harmless. The chorus was in excellent condition. GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.

"The Ensign," William Haworth's melodrama, was the play at the Grand Opera-House last night. It was very effectively staged. The tearing down of the American flag and the shooting of the offender were loudly applauded by the audience. The play is full of good situations and well written dialogues, Miss Frances Gaunt, Miss Evelyn Friend and Walter Edwards were new members of the cast.

EMILITATION STREET THEATER

FOURTEENTE STREET THEATRE. The English melodrama, known as "The Power of Gold." was acted at the Fourteenth Street Theatre last night, its highly realistic scenes were capitally displayed, and the cast was a good one, it included Miss Liste Leigh, Miss Mary Timberman, Miss Gertrude Roberts, Miss Mary Lytton, George Turner, Joseph Ransome, George Boyd, Edward J. Heron and others.

COLUMBUS THEATRE. COLUMBUS THEATRE.

Hallen and Hart kept the audience at he Columbus Theatre, Harlem, last light in a state of incoment good hunor. They were there with their farce-emedy, "The idea," and they worked ery hard, indeed. They were well supported by Miss Mollie Fuller, the tuneful fr. J. Aidrich Libbey, Margaret La Mar, M Wilson, Larry Dooley, Fanny Blood-good and Charles B. Lawlor.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE.

The Connecticut story, "A Nutmer Match," was presented at the People's Theatre last night, and it was well received there. The cast included William Edwards, Edward McWade, Charles Burnham, Fred Hudson, James Carr, David

H. R. JACOBS' THEATRE.

"The Midnight Alarm," a play dealing vividly with incidents in the life of a fireman, was the attraction at H. R. Jacobs' Theatre last night. What it would be without its scenery is not easy to imagine, nor 's it necessary to tax the imagination, for the scenery was there in all its glory. The audience saw the Brooklyn Bridge and the Statue of Liberty. And then, by way of "mechanical effect," a "real" steam engine rushed across the stage.

HERRMANN'S THEATRE. HERRMANN'S THEATRE. HERRMANN'S THEATRE.

J. M. Hill's "entertainers" at Herrmann's Theatre last night were nearly all new, and the audience spent a very agreeable evening with them. Among these entertainers were the five little Barrison sisters, the banjo-twanging Dore brothers, Ouda, the Parisian gymnast; Felix and Claxton, in character sixetches; Garcia, a Mexican musician, and the indefatigable Ramga and Arno, EDEN MUSEE.

EDEN MUSEE. Lola Yberri did a new dance at the Eden Musee yesterday. She was very prettily dressed in green and pink with gold spangles, and with its calciums and castanets her dance was a very effective affair. Delprade, with his assistants, Sara and Marietta; Prof. Raiph Waidt, in sleight-of-hand performances; Tortajada and the Spanish troubadors and Danko Gabor's Hungarlan Band were other attractions.

TONY PASTOR'S.

TONY PASTOR'S.

The programme at Tony Pastor's Theatre yesterday was as good as ever. The energetic Tony himself headed the list of artists among whom were John W. Kelly. Mile. Marguerite Duclerc, the Comedy Irio, including Charles Edmonds, Mort Emerson and Julia Edmonds; Florrie West, Lillie Langtree, Gus Meehan and Annie Raymond, Emma, Nelsonia, Hugh and May Whiting and Prof. Hampton with his dog circus.

"The Shadow of New York was the title of the drama acted in Theatre No. 1 of Doris's Eighth Avenue Museum, yesterday. In Theatre No. 2 was a very good vandeville company, headed by the "petite Flora De Bols," who likes to be called "a pocket edition of Miss Ada Reeve." The main feature of the curio halls was a troupe of "Australian cannibal boomerang throwers," who attracted much attention.

WUBER'S MUSEUM.

HUBER'S MUSEUM. HUBER'S MUSEUM.

Tocci, the two-headed boy, was exhibited at Huber's Fourteenth Street Museum yesterday. He was gazed at by crowds of curious people, who revel in that kind of entertainment. Other attractions were Cliquot, the sword swallower, who is said to puzzle the medical profession; Sherman's performing goats; George, the turtle boy; a tattooed man, a model of the Ferris wheel, and a double vaudeville company.

IMPERIAL MUSIC HALL.

IMPERIAL MUSIC HALL.

The three Hungarians, La Pousta Sisters and Mile. Sabel, appeared at the Imperial Music Hall last night with Gus Hill's world of novelties. This organization included Ed Earle, the Highleys, Estelle Wellington, Ed Leslie, Gus Hill, the club swinger; Mile. Carrie, a mt.sical specialist, and Morrissey and Hickey, Mile. Olive, a juggier, and the aerial Miranda Sisters did very clever work, and Wahlund and Johnson were acceptable "strong men."

UNION SQUARE THEATRE.

B. F. Keith's continuous performance at the Union Square Theatre bubbled over with good things yesterday. Strauss's tuneful "Merry War" was the operatic attraction, and Miss Ida Mulle, in artistic character songs, was the star of the vaudeville entertainment. The other artists were Miss Bessie Gilbert, Mantinetti, Ducrow and Lorella, Kisseil Deihauer, Collins and Collins, Phil and Hattle Mills and Campbell and Evans.

KOSTER & BIAL's.

Sandow, the strong man, who was seen some time ago at the Casino, appeared last inght at Koster & Bial's concert hail. The balance of the protramme included Mile. Edne Lescot, Miss Edunice Vance, Miss Clara Qualitz, Wood and Shepard, the Carons, Jules Kellar, Marlo and Dunham, the Starks and Drummond and Staley. Bessie Belwood's indisposition prevented her from making her announced first appearance before a New York audience.

DORIS'S MUSEUM.

"The Shadow of New York was the title of the drama acted in Theatre No. 1 of Doris's Eighth Avenue Museum, yesterday, In Theatre No. 2 was a very good vandeville company, headed by the "petite Flora De Bois," who likes to be called "a pocket edition of Miss Ada Rate of Corbett losing to Mitchell, Davies said Jackson would be willing to meet Corbett would want to meet Jackson," said Jackson, and the willing to meet Corbett would want to meet Jackson," said Jackson, and the public doesn't seem to have considered—a match between Mitchell, for he never challenges Mitchell, for he never challenges Mitchell, for he never challenges mybody. But if Mitchell should win and challenge Peter the latter would accept. It fisn't likely that if Corbett was beaten by Mitchell he would want to bet $30,000 against Jackson, and a forth the company to take the contest."

Jackson was asked to express an opinion of the gentie (?) game.

A Jacksonville despatch says: 'It is now definitely settled that Charley Mitchell will train in Florida for his fight with Corbett. The English boxer has settled the matter authoritatively. An autograph letter from him was received at 9 o'clock last night, in which Mitchell apologizes for not acknowledging the Jacksonville man's letter sooner, and adds: 'I shall not go to Florida by water. I'm too poor a sallor. I shall be in Jacksonville by Christmas.' The Englishman will go into training at some point on the east coast line, probably at St. Augustine or at Ormond-on-the-Hall-fax.

Tom Ryan and Joe Guthrie, a Chicago pugliist, fought at Naugatuck, Conn., last night. The fight ended in the greatest confusion, Guthrie being practically knocked out in the third round. Both men were arrested. During the confusion which followed Editor Peck, of the Naugatuck Enterprise, became involved in a fight with a policeman, and was arrested and locked up. Ryan and Guthrie were released on $100 bond each. Referee Burns declared the fight a draw.

Clever work, and Wahlund and Johnson were acceptable "girong men."

PROCTOR'S THEATRE.

There were circus and vaudeville at Proctor's Theatre yesterday, the former being under the personal supervision of R. H. Dockrill, formerly of Barnum's. Rose Dockrill and Josie Ashton were the "lady equestrians," and there were tumblers, leapers, acrobats and gymnasts galore. Miss Elisle Adair, the serpentine dancer, and Press Eldridge, a quaint fun maker, were among the vaudeville artists.
